Study 0006

Scripture Text: Matthew 13:13-16

The last personal weekly study we had, brought us to the conclusion the where there is a faulty foundation; we need to demolish it, and rebuild a fresh firm foundation. We also insinuated that there is a need for those of us who think that we are established on a firm foundation, to do a re-assessment, just in case the signs of a faulty foundation may be in our lives.

But before we set out to begin to build, rebuild or re-assess the foundation of our Christianity, we need to ensure that certain important things are in place. Without these things, no amount of foundation laying exercise will succeed.

Our scripture text shows these three primary parts of the spiritual parts of man that are needful for a good foundation to be laid, and this will form the basis of our study.

Assignment

بجين	ment
A.	From our scripture text, what are the three significant parts of the spiritual ma	n that are needed for a successful foundation laying exercise?
	1
	2
	3
В.	Even though everyone has these three significant spiritual parts in them, yet vandeveloped, they contribute nothing to a proper foundation. Using the script below, make notes about the quality of these three parts, and state which ones needed in order to build, rebuild, and effectively re-assess our Christian foundation. Matthew 13:13-16, 19-23; Romans 1:16; Hebrews 3:15-18.

Matthew 13:13-16; Mark 4:23-25; Luke 8:18.
Matthew	y 13:13-16; 1	7141K 4.25-25, 1	мке 0.10.
Matthew	v 13:13-16; I

Conclusion

Even when these three parts of the spiritual man are active, one more thing is important. Indeed, without this one thing, everything that we bring into making the firm foundation will still not produce the required result! Using the scriptures below, what in your mind is that one thing?

Joshua 1:8; Proverbs 22:17; James 1:22-25.